

Brian Huber Press Quotes

"I was drawn to Snuggies..."

-DJ Grant, DC101 Radio

"Turn your radio dial to DC101 and you might just hear Huber's tune...The station has taken to playing the tongue-in-cheek ode since Huber submitted it to DJ Grant."

-Falls Church News-Press

"Brian can write some songs."

-Music Monthly, August 10, 2010

"The Washington, D.C.,-based trio, Lucky Day offers a sampling of pop perfection in its first record."

-Daily Tarheel

"Brian's storytelling lyrics find a home in 'Shipwrecked,' while he has fun with his song 'Snuggies.' The gentleness of 'Semaphore' and the folkiness of 'Yellowstone Lake' is where we find Brian's lyrics the most meaningful."

-JPs Music Blog

"Brian Huber decided to take one of the most ridiculous products ever sold on an infomercial and turn it into a very funny song, 'Snuggies.'"

-Theregoesthefear.com

"...some of the best pop-rock the '60s never heard."

-The Washington Post

"Lucky Day creates some of the most ear-pleasing Brit-poppish sounds we've heard in a while." -The Washington City Paper

"'Time Will Only Know' is a bouncy, melodic slice of tasty pop with jangly guitars and sultry vocals..."

-MetroMusicScene.com

"Any of the tracks, especially, 'Overcast,' could feel right at home on the Garden State soundtrack..."

-The Broadside, George Mason University
